Local Emergency Management Accreditation Program

2017 NYSEMA Conference

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- Voluntary accreditation program to recognize local (i.e., County) emergency management offices that meet a series of emergency management standards.
- A partnership between DHSES/OEM and NYSEMA – we have been working together to develop the program for nearly 2 years.

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- Recently mentioned in the Governor's 2017 State of the State, first state-level accreditation program of its kind.
- Formally launching the program today.

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- 8 member Accreditation Council will govern the program, Council Co-Chaired by NYSEMA President and NYS OEM Director.
- The standards (21) were developed by a working group of state and local emergency management professionals – the standards will evolve over time.

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- DHSES will manage the program and provide administrative support to the Accreditation Council.
- State and local emergency managers will serve on the Accreditation Council, working group, and as Assessors.

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- The Assessors conduct the reviews and make their recommendations to the Accreditation Council.
- DHSES will provide training for the Assessors.
- Will use NY Responds to share plans and other documents.

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

Process includes:

- Application
- Document Reviews
- On-site Reviews (completed by Assessors)
- Accreditation Council Review/Approval
- Recognition (locally and at NYSEMA Conference, press releases, etc.)

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- New webpage on DHSES website with information about the program, to include the standards, program guidance, and application process.
- Please let us know if you are interested in the program and/or in becoming an Assessor.

Local Emergency Management Accreditation

- Pilot tested the program with Oneida County.
- Kevin Revere, Oneida County Emergency Manager, will provide his perspective on the program and associated process.
